The Need for Choice in Addiction Treatment

MATPAC believes that the consumers of treatment services—those suffering from addiction—have a right to choose the treatment approach they feel will best suit their needs.

The Maryland Addiction Treatment Policy Advocacy Coalition (MATPAC) has been formed due to growing concerns over the alarming lack of adequate addiction treatment resources in the state as well as recent policies and regulations the effect of which may marginalize, restrict, reduce or eliminate addiction treatment options for Maryland residents.

MATPAC believes that the consumer's right to choose their treatment approach should be a key factor driving government responses to the addiction crisis. We are getting started now and are looking for people who want to get involved.
